

Mobile Watchdog’s KidsSafe program helps educate kids and parents about good Internet etiquette and positive cyber behavior.

Research has shown that when educated and given a chance to succeed, kids not only cease their damaging cyber misconduct, but actually become a huge part of helping others do the same, making our schools and communities safer.

Our program helps reconnect parents and kids by teaching parents how to understand their kids and effectively parent in this digital age. Our solid foundation in community safety coupled with our support of law enforcement has resulted in safer homes and schools.

Our law enforcement partners have been using our products to track, monitor, investigate and prosecute cyber-misconduct for years.

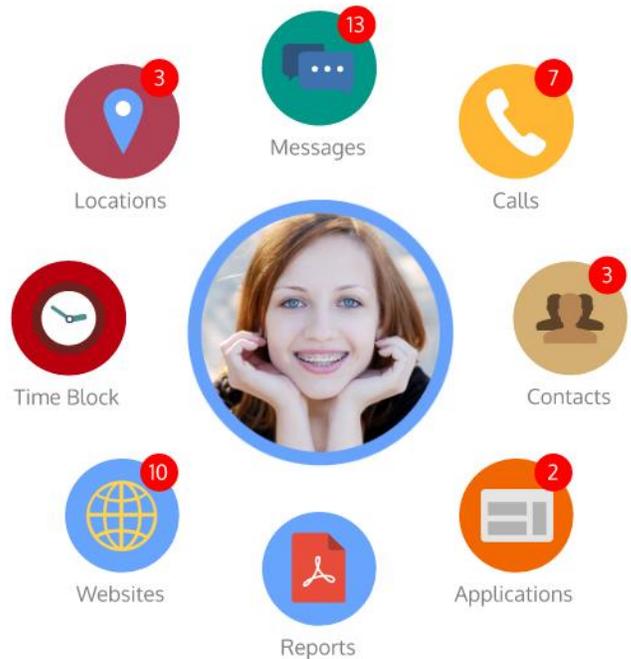

The KidsSafe Investigative Unit provides free investigation and digital forensics services to parents, law enforcement, and schools to assist in identifying and resolving cyber misconduct nationwide.
